November 2011

Dear Exhibitor/Sponsor

Now that the days are getting shorter and the nights are getting cooler, it can only mean one thing... It's time to make plans for the 2012 "Southwest Hay and Forage Conference"! We are happy to announce that the conference will again be held in Ruidoso, New Mexico at the Ruidoso Convention Center on January 25th, 26th, and 27th, 2012.

We are happy to announce that we have secured another great entertainer for the upcoming conference. Vic Henley, a "good 'ol boy" from Alabama is sure to put on a great show. Vic has been seen on the Late Show with David Letterman, the Tonight Show with Jay Leno, and has his own Comedy Central Present Half our special. Following Vic's performance the NMHA has also booked The Mixx Band from Ruidoso for a performance in the lobby of the Lodge at Sierra Blanca. Please join us for laughs and a dance our two!

The NMHA has reserved a block of rooms at a special rate with The Lodge at Sierra Blanca, which is adjacent to the Ruidoso Convention Center. There are a limited number of rooms available at the special rate, so it is important to reserve a room early in order to secure that rate. You can reach the Lodge at (575) 258-5500 or at www.thelodgeatsierrablanca.com.

Enclosed is an Exhibitor/Sponsor registration form that must be returned by December 28, 2011, in order to guarantee exhibit space. The NMHA is very appreciative of any items donated for silent auctions and door prizes.

Thank you again for all of the support you give to the NMHA and the conference. Without your support it would be impossible to bring together our attendees from across the state and across the region. If you have any questions or need assistance, please contact our secretary Gina Sterrett at 575-626-5677 or email her at nmhay@yahoo.com.

Sincerely,

Justin Boswell
